MetroGistics Announces Partnership with Dealerslink® Facilitates Seamless Transport Quoting and Ordering for Members

Saint Louis, June 22, 2011 – MetroGistics, a full-service vehicle transportation company, has announced a new partnership with Dealerslink®, a members-only, dealer-to-dealer wholesale marketplace. As part of the arrangement, MetroGistics' Web-based logistics quoting, ordering and load-tracking functions will be integrated into the Dealerslink Marketplace.

Both companies are taking advantage of cutting-edge technology to streamline processes that will provide dealer members with seamless quotes and ordering through www.dealerslink.com to meet their auto transport needs. This partnership between two up-and-coming leaders in their respective fields will give customers a simple and satisfying experience trading cars from dealer to dealer.

“Our team spent over six months researching and interviewing most of the major logistics companies in the United States,” said Mike Goicoechea, CEO of Dealerslink. “We selected MetroGistics as our logistics partner because they had the perfect combination of above-average delivery times, industry-leading load-tracking technology, and dedicated customer service. Our dealer members have high standards and expect us to only work with industry leaders.”

“We’re very excited to be fully integrated with a market leader such as Dealerslink,” said Scott Naz, one of MetroGistics’ managing partners. “Providing a reliable shipping solution to an established dealer-to-dealer trading platform will help both sides scale into markets that are untapped today. We see this market niche growing steadily, and partnering with Dealerslink brings tremendous opportunities to both sides.”
